Patton Is Given a Transfer

Action Reported
By Eisenhower
Over Theories on De-Nazification

FRANKFORT ON THE MAIN, Germany, Oct. 2 — (P) — It was officially announced today that General George S. Patton, Jr., who differed with Gen. Eisenhower over denazification policies in Bavaria, had been relieved of command of the famed Third army he led through France. He will take over the 15th army, which is reduced now to a "paper" organization.

This was learned here today several hours after a reliable source in Berlin had reported that Patton had been relieved of his command in Bavaria after widespread criticism of his views on denazification.

The Berlin informant said Lt. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott, Jr., succeeded Patton.

The 15th, which completed its job as an occupation army in July, now consists of a headquarters staff and a few troops doing research work.

Lt. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott, Jr., commanding the Fifth army which is slated for official dissolution December 1, will succeed Patton in command of the Third and of the eastern half of the American occupation zone.

On Heels of Statement

Although no official reason was given for the transfer of the swash-buckling, pistol-packing Patton, it came on the heels of his widely criticized statement to newsmen Sept. 22 that some Nazis should remain in office for the sake of better administration this winter.

This was in conflict with Eisenhower's stand for immediate elimination of all Nazis from office, in line with the Potsdam Declaration.

Today's announcement was from headquarters of U. S. forces in the European theater. It came about four hours after Associated Press correspondent Edward D. Ball quoted a reliable Berlin source to the effect that Patton's transfer was imminent. Headquarters said: "On Sept. 29 Gen. Eisenhower notified Patton that he would be transferred on or about October 7 to take command of the 15th army and to head the theater general board, and that Lt. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott would take command of the Third army and the eastern military district. This transfer will be made as ordered Oct. 7."

The 15th army does not control any occupation area. Its mission is to prepare reports on Allied relations in the war, with recommendations for future procedure. At present it is "a paper army." It was announced July 21 that the 15th had completed its job as an occupying force and that the commander at that time, Lt. Gen. Leonard T. Gerow, had been named permanent general of a board of American officers to make a detailed study of the European war.

(At Washington, the war department said the report of Patton's relief was "news" to it, adding that the decision was entirely up to Eisenhower.)

Kickback on Statement

Patton, who has often been in hot water for speaking out, got himself into difficulties Sept. 22 when he expounded his personal theories about the de-Nazification of his Bavarian area at his headquarters in Bad Toelz.

He held a news conference then that it might be necessary to keep some Nazis in office "to insure ourselves that women, children and old men will not perish from hunger or cold this winter."

This statement brought editorial criticism in the United States, as did Patton's comparison of "this Nazi thing" to the "Democratic and Republican fight back home."

"You always find the 'outs' back home making charges against the 'ins,'" Patton explained.

Promptly, Eisenhower's headquarters told Patton to "clarify" his remarks. Patton then summoned another news conference. At the second conference he said his comparison of German and American politics was an "unfortunate analogy" and insisted that he was carrying out Eisenhower's policies vigorously.

Nevertheless, Eisenhower called "Old Blood and Guts" on the carpet Friday and talked to him for more than two hours.

Air Medal Awarded Sgt. John W. Thompson

THE 315TH BOMB WING, GUAM, Oct. 2 — (P) — Fourteen Missourians were among a group of Superfortress airmen to be awarded Air Medals recently at headquarters of the 315th Bomb Wing, commanded by Brig. Gen. Frank A. Armstrong, Jr.

Sedalian Arrives In Manila on His Way Home

Sgt. John Anderson Collins, of the army air forces, who was taken prisoner by the Japanese in Java February 12, 1942, has arrived in Manila and will be home soon, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. Collins, 911 East Sixth street. The war department message was the first word they had received concerning their son since April, 1943, when reports came to them that his name had been mentioned in a radio broadcast of Japanese prisoners.

Sgt. John A. Collins

With the exception of a cablegram informing his parents he had arrived in Australia, which was received after his capture, the Collins family had received no direct word from their son.

A second message received today states:

"The secretary of war has asked me to inform you your son, Sgt. John A. Collins has been returned to military control September 12. He is to be returned to the United States in the near future. He will be given opportunity to communicate with you upon his arrival." The report further states his condition is fair.

This message was from Washington and signed E. F. Witsell, acting adjutant general.

Sgt. Collins entered service at Jefferson Barracks in October 1939 and from there went to Douglas Field, Salt Lake City, Utah where he received his training. He left the United States November 20, 1941 and was later reported as missing in action in Java.

The accident occurred at Garde Crossing, five miles west of Edwardsville.

Observer Sees Military Air To Boys' School in Japan

By Morrie Landsberg

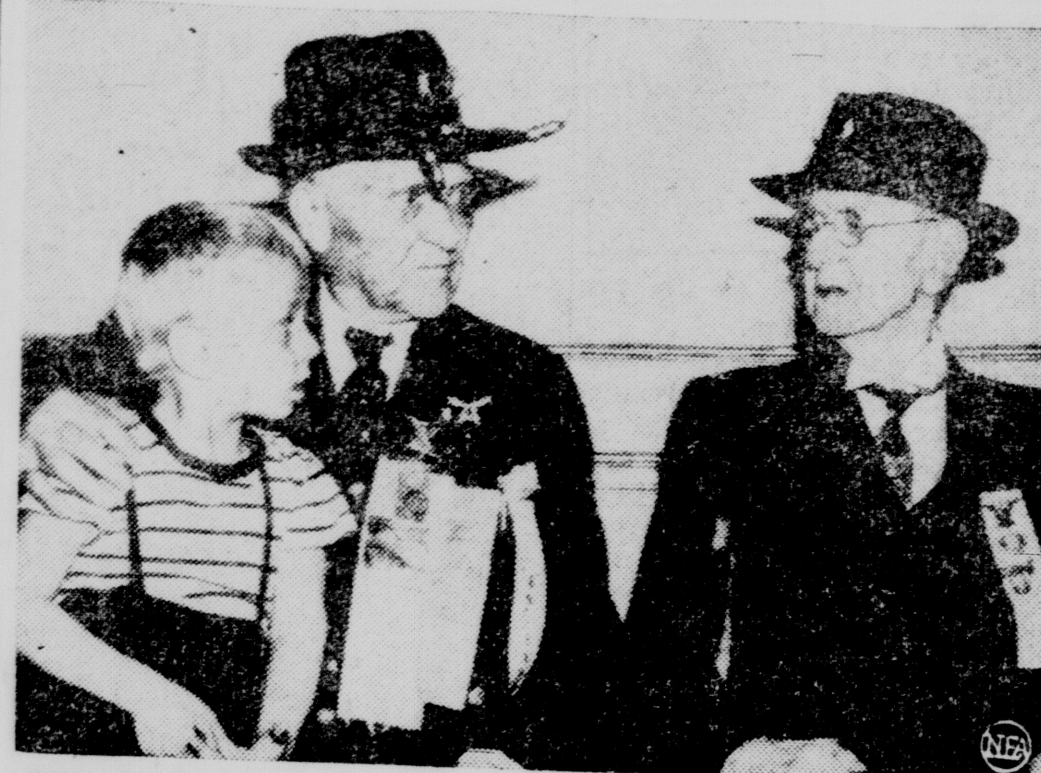

NIKKO, Japan, Oct. 2 — (P) — Japan's surrender and stated willingness to weed militarism out of education outwardly haven't affected the nation's No. 1 school for boys.

The School for Peers, where Japan trains princes and future leaders, still stresses Bushido in spirit if not in military subjects.

To an American observer the school has a distinct military air from the instruction to the way the boys march, bow and salute.

Both the emperor's sons—Crown Prince Akihito, 11, and Prince Masahito, 9—are students at the Nikko school, which is controlled not by the ministry of education but by the ministry of the imperial household. Akihito is in the sixth grade and is described by instructors as "an especially

Council Votes $100 To Teen Town Drive

Incinerator Plans, Salaries Discussed At Regular Meeting

The Sedalia Teen-Age club drive for funds was opened Monday night when the city council voted unanimously to give $100 to the fund which operates Teen Town for ten age boys and girls of Sedalia. Carl F. Urban, president of the board of directors, was present at the council meeting and gave a short talk in which he asked the council to support the project.

Leo Eickhoff, fourth ward alderman, made a motion to subscribe $100 to the fund which was seconded by Dick Keenan, of the second ward. Considerable discussion was held among the members on the motion, and in each case the alderman discussing the motion stated he favored such a project and felt that it is a good thing for Sedalia's teen-age boys and girls.

Incinerator Discussed

Sedalia's incinerator, which was damaged by fire recently, was discussed by the council concerning whether it should be given temporary repairs, permanent repairs, or a new incinerator be built. It was brought out the city of Sedalia collected $3,100 insurance for damage by the fire.

Two bids were read before the council on replacing the damage. One was presented by C. W. Rothgeb, the other by the Dean Construction Co. and in the letters neither gave enough information to the council as to just what repairs would be made under the bids, councilmen said. The council did not vote on these bids, but recommended that City Engineer James L. Collins, Sanitary Officer Raymond Fetters, and Alderman Frank Middleton, conduct an investigation of what is needed and have the city clerk draft bids on which the contractors would base their offers.

Rothgeb's bid was for $1,655.50 while the Dean Construction Co. bid was for $3,096.76, the latter included a new smoke stack, the other bid not considering a new smoke stack.

Not Specific Enough Alderman Keenan brought out the bids were not "specific, not explicit and both were too indefinite," and suggested a list be drafted on which contractors could figure on and make their bids.

John Taylor, from the third ward, took the floor and said, "I think we should spend the entire amount of insurance collected on fixing the incinerator plant. It is a mighty sorry thing the way it is now, and it wasn't any better before it burned. It ought to be modernized," he concluded.

Something to Tell Folks at Home About

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 2 — (P) — An ordinary shave turned out to be quite an event for a Kansas City visitor recently.

The stranger settled himself in a barber shop chair and was soon relaxing under the hot towels. Nothing disturbed him, not even the police sirens.

The barber completing the job a few minutes later whipped off the towels only to be interrupted by a startled query from his customer.

"What's going on here?" the stranger cried.

A crowd of curious onlookers were peering in the windows and efficient looking men, obviously guards, were posted at the doors.

"Sh-sh! The president is here getting a haircut," the barber told the stranger. "He is in the chair next to you."

"This'll sure be something to tell the home folks about," the stranger told President Truman as he shook his head.

Team up for Road Building

Outlay of Over Three Billion in Next Three Years

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 — (P) — Senate Democrats and Republicans teamed up today to push the button for a huge postwar road building program. It calls for an outlay of more than $3,000,000,000 in the next three years.

"This is the first major step taken by congress to show that the wartime emergency is over," said Senator Reed (R-Kas) in an interview.

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) planned to step down from his chair as presiding officer and ask immediate action on the bill, already passed unanimously by the house. As chairman of the committee on postoffices and post roads, he will call up the measure which the committee approved without dissent yesterday.

McKellar, Reed and other members forecast speedy senate approval.

"There has been almost no road building in this country for four years," Reed said. "We need roads and we need jobs. This will provide both."

Program May Be Started

Actually the pending measure is limited to a finding by congress that the "war emergency has been relieved to an extent" that the vast federal aid program can be started.

The program was authorized by congress last December as a postwar measure to cushion the shift to peace. Under it the states must match dollar for dollar the federal funds provided.

The program authorizes more than $500,000,000 in federal funds for the current fiscal year ending June 30 and the same amount for the two following fiscal years.

In addition the program includes $87,250,000 annually to help build highways, roads and trails in forests, parks and Indian lands.

The planned allocations for the first year, as set forth in a report issued by the public roads administration include:

Missouri—Federal-aid highway system, $6,660,223; secondary or feeder roads, $4,562,550; urban highways, $3,151,158.

Smokes for Pups

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 2 — (P) — Two live souvenirs from Germany—a pair of German Boxer dogs—were delivered to the home of T. Sgt. Charles J. Hurlbut shortly after he arrived home from Germany.

Hurlbut got the dogs from an old woman in a trade for two packages of cigarettes and then he solved the problem of getting them home. He bought passage for the pups on an oil tanker with 122 pairs of coveralls donated by his company.

Paper Drive Sunday, Oct. 7

C. E. VanHorn, chairman of the Pettis County Salvage committee has planned a waste paper drive to be held at 1:30 Sunday, October 7th. He asks all persons having waste paper to tie it into bundles and place it on the curb Sunday afternoon so that the trucks will be able to pick it up easily.

He urges that all paper be tied in bundles, due to the fact the salvage company will not accept it any other way.

Rousing Meet At the Shops For Chest Drive

R. T. Wood Asserts Need is Great in Postwar Period

"I beg of you today to dig down and give twice as much as you did last year in the name of humanity," such was the plea of Reuben T. Wood, of Springfield, Mo., in an address at the meeting of the Sedalia Booster Club held this noon hour, at the local Missouri Pacific shops.

F. G. Rose, chief booster, presided, and after a few remarks relative to the drive underway by the "Teen-Age club of this city, in which he urged all that could to give a contribution to this cause, presented Ed Mullaley, postmaster, who with a few remarks presented Reuben T. Wood, president of the Missouri Federation of Labor, who gave the principal address of the day in behalf of the Community Chest and War Fund drive.

"Mission of Mercy" Mr. Wood stated he was here today on a "Mission of Mercy". We are facing the most critical stage this nation has ever known. We have over sixty million people who have been deprived of food, clothes, and even land and it is up to the people of this nation to help them out. The other nations look to this nation and we have a greater responsibility than ever before. It is true a quarter of million of our fighting forces have been left on the foreign land and one million returning to the country wounded. Much sacrifice has been done not only by our loyal men and women but our mothers and fathers and others.

Necessities Vital One of the most important things to do is to give a man bread. If he is hungry, give him bread, if he has no shelter, put a roof over his head. After you have done these things then you can talk to him and reason with him. We must give to this Community Chest and War Fund drive in order to help the nations who have been deprived of the necessities of life and then we can reason with them and put an end to wars, etc. When a man is hungry he will do anything and listen to false doctrines, teachings, leadership, etc.

Mr. Wood, continuing, pleaded with all to give to this drive and mentioned that labor had a hard struggle and would play a great part in the welfare of this nation and urged them all to stick together.

"We are on top of the hill now, so let's not slip back. Don't let the foreign countries slip back either. We must dig and dig deep and give twice as much as we did in the last drive in the name of humanity."

It is expected that we will have eight million people unemployed this winter and it is up to us to help them as well as other nations. We have a great responsibility so let's "dig and dig deep," said Mr. Wood.

Survey for Upper Missouri Basin

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 2 — (P) — The Missouri senate passed, 23-1, today a bill to let a special commission studying a proposed Missouri Valley Authority survey the Upper Missouri basin.

The commission investigated the Tennessee Valley Authority last June. Extension of the survey was urged by Sen. Edward V. Long (D) of Bowling Green, sponsor of the measure, because "we've only looked at one side of the picture."

He said engineer members of the commission had declined to join in a final report until they had seen the problems of the upper Missouri river and talked with people in the area.

War Brides off For Australia

SEATTLE, Oct. 2 — (P) — North American war brides—120 of them with 30 babies—were bound for new homes in Australia today, reversing the trend which has brought many Australian young women to this continent.

The girls, including two citizens of the United States, all met and married officers or men of the Royal Australian Air Force who trained in Canada.

Also in the party, which left late last night by special train on the final North American lap of the exodus, were 20 brides-to-be, whose fiances await them in Australia. Members of the party said they were to sail later in the week from San Francisco.

The girls explained that the Australian government was footing the bill, although the fiances had to pay their fares in advance, with remittance promised after the weddings.

Among the passengers, also, were 31 RAAF warrant officers. Some were veterans of the European campaign who trained in Canada, married, went to Europe and returned via Canada to take their brides home to Australia.

Democrats to Strongly Back Cut in Taxes

Republicans are Firm for Their Own Program

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 — (P) — Turning down Republican substitute proposals, the house ways and means committee moved today toward a quick showdown on the administration proposal to repeal the 3 per cent normal tax on individual incomes.

By Francis M. LeMay

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 — (P) — Democratic strength built up preponderantly today behind the administration's proposal for a $5,000,000,000 tax cut next year that would free 12,000,000 low income persons from further income levies.

A spot poll indicated that the house ways and means committee—which only last week cast aside President Truman's request for jobless pay liberalization—would give speedy approval to the tax bill and send it to the full house for a vote.

Moreover, Chairman George (D-Ga) of the senate finance committee termed the tax-cutting proposal submitted yesterday by Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson "a very constructive approach."

Vinson proposed repeal on January first of both the war time three per cent normal tax on individuals and the 95 per cent excess profits tax on corporations. He also recommended sharp cuts of excise taxes on such things as furs, jewelry, liquor and cosmetics, effective next July 1.

Republicans, however, stood firm on their own tax program, which would slice income levies 20 per cent for each taxpayer.

The Republican leader, Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, told reporters that Vinson's program "didn't go far enough. It won't open up purchasing power to stimulate business and (Please turn to Page 4, Column 4)

Pressure for Reforming of Jap Cabinet

Gen. MacArthur Calls Accounting On War Material

TOKYO, Oct. 2 — (P) — Pressure mounted among Japanese for top-to-bottom reorganization of their cabinet by the time demobilization is completed in mid-October; and General MacArthur demanded a full accounting of Japan's military production as well as existing stocks of war material.

He asked the Japanese government for full information on the annual production of arms, ordnance, ammunition and automotive equipment from 1941 through August, 1945, plus estimates for the remainder of 1945.

Japanese sources reported a rising sentiment for elimination from the cabinet of ministers once associated with the beaten, war-making regime, as well as those blamed for failure to anticipate growing food, housing and fuel shortages.

Earlier reports—strictly without confirmation—have hinted that Emperor Hirohito might abdicate in a thorough government housecleaning when his task of carrying out the principal surrender terms is finished.

The strike of some 46,000 textile workers in mine states also was expected to come before the labor secretary. The CIO textile workers union appealed to southern congressmen to form a commission to deal with the crisis.

Designate Week To "Employ Physically Handicapped"

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 2 — (P) — Gov. Phil M. Donnelly today designated the week of Oct. 7 as "National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week" and urged widespread aid to battle casualties and other physically handicapped persons.

Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 — Democratic members of the house ways and means committee last week saw President Truman, for the first time since he became president, hopping mad at congress. They received a call Wednesday afternoon from Chairman "Muley Bob" Doughton asking all Democrats to be at the White House at 10 the next morning. Having just agreed to shelve the unemployment compensation bill, they had a pretty clear idea of what was coming.

Little time was wasted in pleasantries. The president had only a curt nod or "Hello" for the members as they came in, then plunged at once into his subject. The unemployment compensation features provided in his message must be enacted, he said, before he could feel that congress has done the job the people expect of it. For over 45 minutes, the president sat and discussed the bill with the congressmen, and not a single smile cracked his face.

Closest he came to a smile was when he said:

"President Roosevelt always used to rely upon the house to help him out against the senate. I thought I could rely upon the senate. But," the former senator from Missouri added, "it looks like I'm having a little trouble there now."

He referred to the senate's pruning of the original unemployment compensation bill offered by Senator Harley Kilgore of West Virginia.

Early in the conference, Representative Dingell of Michigan, Eberhardt of Pennsylvania and Forand of Rhode Island told the president that they agreed with his program and would like to see the house vote the $25 and 26-week provisions the senate had knocked out. Chairman Doughton, half-hearted author of a bill including these provisions but not the full Kilgore bill, glared fiercely, while Forand reminded the president that he had himself introduced a bill calling for everything in the Kilgore bill.

Various members spoke up, trying to explain their positions. Chairman Doughton had grave doubts whether the $2 would make the labor situation worse by stimulating idleness. However, the president refuted arguments about strikes and states' rights even before they were raised.

"This need of the American people — who worked hard all through the war — for a small measure of help in tiding them over this winter's unemployment — had nothing to do with strikes. Today's strikes are no argument so far as this bill is concerned."

Strike Action Coming
Cautiously, he added, "And I may be doing something about the strikes before long."

One argument Truman didn't answer in advance was that offered by Representative Sid Camp of Georgia. Camp agreed with several other members — Mills of Arkansas, West of Texas and Gregory of Kentucky — that $25

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Food for Thought About our Food

BY WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The teeth begin the preparation of food for mouth digestion. Because of their shape and location, they serve three functions, cutting, chewing and grinding the food. At the same time saliva, which contains digestive enzymes, begins the digestion of starch. Envelopes of cellulose which surround the starch granules cannot be digested by saliva, therefore they must be broken up by cooking and chewing first.

Saliva, a product of the salivary glands, moistens food and stimulates the sense of taste. For the taste buds to appreciate what we are eating, the food must be in solution. Eventually the food is formed into a soft ball which is the final act of preparation for swallowing. It is pushed back in the throat by the tongue and the muscles of the upper portion of the esophagus and then sent down into the stomach.

The presence of food in the mouth stimulates the flow of stomach juice.

Upsets Retard Action

The flow of digestive juice is largely dependent on food and the emotions. The experiments of Dr. Walter B. Cannon demonstrated per week was a high figure for compensation payments.

"In my state, my folks wouldn't feel any too good about that," Camp told his colleagues. "Hardly any of them would be able to collect $25 a week because they'd have had to be earning twice that much while they were working in order to be eligible for the $25. And $50 a week is an awful high figure for Georgia."

Truman made it clear among other things that he was absolutely opposed to Illinois Senator Scott Lucas' bill returning the U. S. employment service to the states. They must be operated by the federal government, Truman maintained, at least for a year.

Although he didn't say a single word, which on paper, would look harsh, the president was really serious, the members agreed. If they had met with him the previous afternoon — at the time he had issued the invitations — they figured they would have received a real dressing down.

NOTE — Only Democrat on the committee who seemed irrevocably opposed to reporting out the $25-a-week Kilgore bill so the house could vote on it was West of Texas, a Jack Garner Democrat. He said little, but made it obvious he was dead opposed.

Congresswoman in a Harem

The fabulous Ibn Saud, absolute ruler over millions of Arabs, broke the precedent of centuries by greeting a lady outside a hard-hat. She was white-haired Mrs. Frances Bolton, Republican congresswoman from Cleveland.

Ibn Saud refused to sit down at dinner with Mrs. Bolton, however, and she had her dinner in Ibn Saud's harem, while six male congressmen ate camel meat and various other delicacies at the table of the king himself.

Mrs. Bolton had accompanied the congressmen to the palace, even though it was not expected that she would be permitted an audience with the king. She entered his presence with the men, despite the growls of outraged Arab courtiers. After greeting Mrs. Bolton, Ibn Saud discreetly suggested that she might like to visit the harem, which she did.

The congressman from Ohio stayed with the king's ladies through most of the visit, but returned to the men later, dressed in native costume. At that particular moment, the king was complaining to the congressmen about the high cost of living and roughly grabbed hold of Mrs. Bolton's robe to illustrate in detail the cost of each part of her costume.

Seeing that the men in the party had been given full native costumes and various other gifts, Mrs. Bolton made no offer to return the garments given her.

The male members of congress were not permitted even a peek in the harem. They were Representatives Karl Mundt of South Dakota, Victor Wickersham of Oklahoma, Chester Merrow of New Hampshire, Walter Huber and Mike Feighan of Ohio and A. S. J. Carnahan of Missouri.

Mississippi Carpet Baggers

Truman's tough talk with the ways and means committee went directly counter to the confidential letter the White House had sent to Senate Leader Barkley of Kentucky in which the $25-a-week payment was listed as "desirable" but not "indispensable."

Credit for writing Barkley this letter, now found to be directly contrary to Truman's real stand, is given George Allen, who is turning out to be the most potent mystery figure around the White House.

The best story teller in the capitol (with the exception of Chip Robert) Allen was transplanted to Washington by Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, and has thrived here ever since. First he was commissioner of the District of Columbia, later became vice president of the Home Insurance company, which he still is.

But the smartest thing George ever did was to attach himself to the Truman vice presidential campaign train last year and become the close buddy of the man who was to be president. While big-shot politicians were hanging around Roosevelt, George Allen travelled with the neglected vice president, amused him and helped write his speeches.

So now, Allen is constantly around the White House, a potent, charming, and very reactionary adviser. He was even consulted about the three new judges for the court of appeals for the district of Columbia — which may be one reason why Truman picked three ex-supporters of the power companies. He was also given

The fabulous Ibn Saud, absolute ruler over millions of Arabs, broke the precedent of centuries by greeting a lady outside a hard-hat. She was white-haired Mrs. Frances Bolton, Republican congresswoman from Cleveland.

Ibn Saud refused to sit down at dinner with Mrs. Bolton, however, and she had her dinner in Ibn Saud's harem, while six male congressmen ate camel meat and various other delicacies at the table of the king himself.

Sight-Seers of 6th Toured Pacific

By NEA Service

In World War I the Sixth Infantry division was in so many engagements and made so many long marches about France that it was given the nickname "The Sight-Seeing Sixth."

The Sixth in this war upheld that reputation. Its six-pointed star shoulder patch was seen throughout the Pacific, from Hawaii to the far reaches of New Guinea.

The Sight-Seers had one of the toughest assignments in recapture of Luzon. They landed at Lingayen Gulf Jan. 9, 1945, and went straight to the hills in pursuit of the Japs. While most of the other invading divisions were working on fairly flat terrain, the Sixth was in the mountains attacking formidable Nip positions. In the first month of the campaign, the Sixth killed 5,000 Japs, and during the fierce battle around Munoz knocked out 57 Jap medium and light tanks and destroyed a great number of artillery pieces.

The Sixth's first job was the defense of Oahu. In 1944 it set sail for Milne Bay, New Guinea, and later moved to the Toem-Wadke area. In July the Sight-Seers went into action west of Toem and met and defeated the Japs in the bloody battle of Lone Tree Hill. With little rest, the Sixth moved again. This time the men landed at Sansapor on the Vogelkop Peninsula in the Netherlands East Indies. Striking swiftly, they rapidly secured the Sansapor coast and garrisoned this area until it joined the armada that sailed against Luzon.

credit for working with Leo Crowley suddenly to terminate lend-lease. Finally he is credited with authoring the senate memo which undermined the Kilgore $25-a-week compensation bill.

Whether the memo was sent without Truman's reading it, or whether he read it too hastily, is not known. Either way, it proved a bombshell. Either way, also, some of Truman's senatorial friends are wondering whether the continued influence of the gentleman from Mississippi is healthy.

Mississippi Rule

Current wise-crack in the nation's capital: The northern carpet-baggers once invaded Mississippi, but now Mississippi has reversed it and recaptured Washington. Not only does George Allen sit at Truman's elbow, but Senator Bilbo, chairman of the District of Columbia committee, is virtual "mayor" of Washington, while the son of the late Senator Vardaman of Mississippi is Truman's naval aide.

NOTE — Chief Mississippian missed around Washington is ex-Congressman Ross Collins, the man who forced the war department into spending money on the first Flying Fortress and who did so much to streamline the army.

LEANA AWAITS CHANCE XIV

THERE was much to do those first few days following Carolyn's arrival in Arizona.

Bob bought a station-wagon, and together he and Carolyn drove the boxed X-999 through the canyons to Blair, thence branched onto the rougher trail that led to the abandoned Copper King mine in Tonto Mountain. There they were met by Bob's workmen, who already had reconditioned the narrow gauge ore track into the mine shaft.

When the X-999 had at last been deposited nearly three-quarters of a mile inside the mountain itself, Bob showed visible relief.

"Now, for the first time, I can breathe easily," said he.

Carolyn telephoned her mother, and Mrs. Tyler had packed their trunks and personal effects to follow west.

When she arrived, they decided to take her into partial confidence, explaining that the "chemical substance" was hidden in the abandoned Copper King Mine shaft only because it was valuable and "dangerous to persons who wouldn't handle it properly." They did not tell her just how terrifically great it was in explosive power, lest she be uneasy.

"It is a mighty big mountain for a laboratory," Mrs. Tyler gazed at Tonto Peak in awe.

Dr. Hale nodded. "About 8000 feet. Odd formation, really. Note the bald, perpendicular spot on top—that's a granite face. Left half the mountain, seen from here, is almost solid rock. Other half, you'll note, had up-ended strata, loose shale and all manner of stuff. There are several beautiful old trails, Mrs. Tyler. I shall order a very gentle horse for you."

Mrs. Tyler appreciated his thoughtfulness. The more she saw of Dr. Robert Hale, the better she liked him. She couldn't blame her impressionable daughter for being a little bit "foolish" about such a man.

MEANTIME, Carolyn knew, Leana Sormi was a lurking, insidious danger. She "knew" it largely through intuition, but it was definite even so.

Leana's eyes had revealed it. Leana's way of looking at Bob. The little things Leana had let slip back home. The peculiar circumstance of that first explosion, the hint contained in the telegram to Leana, and the fact that a train was robbed! They all added up too much to be mere coincidence.

"I've been terrifically lucky," Carolyn whispered to herself, in apprehension again. "She's not likely to miss any bets next time!" Leana had been brought to the mountain retreat, Carolyn knew, because there was a great work force here, and Bob—harnessing X-999, adapting its unprecedented power to engines, inviting other distinguished scientists here for consultation, remaking the whole world of engineering!

But Carolyn knew that somewhere in this rush Leana Sormi would strike again. And soon!

A WHOLE new settlement had been constructed half a mile from the granite side of Tonto Peak and partly screened from Tonto by a lesser hill, which Carolyn named Tonto Jr. An electric power line from Boulder Dam had been tapped to supply the impromptu village, and telephone lines had been extended from Blair.

Even comfortable guest cabins had been built and were put to use when Dr. Merrill and Dr. Canby came by invitation from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Dr. O'Mara from the University of Minnesota, Engineers Harding and Treat, and Capitalist Devereaux from great industrial corporations in Detroit.

Still others would soon be arriving. Carolyn knew, for Bob and Leana were gathering here the best technical brains in America.

Moreover, the experimenters actually had assembled and developed one engine that functioned with a minute speck of the X-999 for power source, less than two months after the arrival of the crew in Arizona.

"It is unbelievable!" old Dr. O'Mara cried.

"But it works!" shot back practical Devereaux, an automobile and airplane manufacturer. "I don't need to tell you people that this will revolutionize all the world's engineering."

THAT was true, too true for most of them to grasp except in piecemeal. As for Carolyn, she lived in a constant state of suspense and restrained excitement—a condition most pleasant for any vivacious person. She acquired it through her employment, which was a steady (hence delightful) intimacy with Bob Hale. Through her he recorded every move the experimenters made.

That very intimacy with Bob, however, was observed day by day by Leana Sormi. And Carolyn knew it. Realization of Leana's jealousy kept alive the only flaw in an otherwise perfect existence here.

She felt that Leana Sormi was secretly raging. As indeed she was.

But it was not until an evening when most of the new village personnel had met for dinner together in the largest house, and Bob and Carolyn had relaxed so as to laugh heartily like the young people they were and had even danced twice to radio music, that Leana felt her restraint again give away.

That night she sat until well past 1 o'clock, crystallizing a brand-new plan. It was audacious, yet so perfect she could see no possibility of failure. It could give her everything she wanted and it could be effected at once.

Society and Clubs

The Sorosis meeting Monday afternoon, which was held at the Heard Memorial Club House, was presided over by the president, Mrs. Austin Hurley.

Miss Nettie Lamm, at this time, reported that the ten names submitted for membership for this year had been unanimously voted in as new members. They are Mrs. Thomas Croxton, Mrs. Marvin Crutcher, Mrs. Elliott Ginsberg, Mrs. E. J. Green, Mrs. M. E. Gouge, Mrs. John V. Harris, Miss Marguerite O'Connell, Mrs. John Rodeman, Mrs. William Seelen and Mrs. Patrick Warren.

The meeting was then turned over to Miss Helen Bowers, chairman of the Current Topics department, who presented the speaker of the afternoon, H. C. Boswell of Kansas City, from the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Mr. Boswell, who spoke on "War Time Function of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Plans for the Future," gave a most informative talk on that organization and its work.

Check on Espionage

Mr. Boswell said that on September 6, 1939 President Roosevelt gave the F. B. I. an assignment of checking on the work of the espionage and the sabotage that was then going on in our country. This was an entirely new role for the F. B. I. and was quite different from the crimes that they had always dealt with such as murders, kidnapping and robbery but they started to work. Over fourteen thousand persons were arrested, and were either interned or paroled and the alien enemy control was largely broken up. The alien enemy control consisted of persons sent here for information gathered of the strength of our country to be transferred back to Germany.

There were thirty-three arrested in large cities in the east six months before Pearl Harbor. The identity of three of them was known in the beginning.

One man, a German living in the United States, was sent to Germany and attended a three months school in Hamburg in which these agents were trained in short wave radio stations, in-

Juvenile Delinquency

Mr. Boswell believes that there will be an increase of crime in post-war America. The juveniles, who have been permitted to or have engaged in certain acts, will go on to bigger crime. Adult anxiety to help in the war effort has been the largest factor in juvenile delinquency, Mr. Boswell believes. It has left the homes and the children neglected. The children have been permitted to run loose and to mingle with those who have bad influence. We have lived at a faster speed and the children have also gone at a faster speed. This coupled with the fact that men with criminal tendencies who have been in the armed forces will now be better able to carry out their acts because of the training that they have received, will bring a far greater wave of crime.

Miss Etta Hurley, chairman of the Civics committee announced that O. B. Poundstone will give the address at the next week Sorosis meeting in dedication of the club's new American flag. There will also be a short musical program under the direction of Mrs. George Lovercamp.

A tea in honor of the new members will follow the meeting.

A shower was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dillon, of LaMonte, the evening of September 26 for Pfc. and Mrs. Raymond Dillon and Mr. and Mrs. Roy McCorkle, recently married couples.

Gives Address on K of C to Observe Rehabilitation

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 2.—(P)—Medical rehabilitation service, which salvaged 86 per cent of all military casualties in World War II, is a vital need in civilian life, Col. Howard A. Rusk, of St. Louis, told delegates to the Kansas City southwest clinical society conference here last night.

Citing an example which he said alone furnished proof of the need for a national rehabilitation program, Colonel Rusk told the assembly of doctors that in the first four days after D-day in the European invasion there were 11,000 wound cases, while in the United States in those same four days there were 23,000 cases of violent injury that required as much, if not more, medical care than the battlefield victims.

Better medical service for veterans of both world wars was advocated in a talk given earlier last night by Maj. Gen. Paul R. Hawley, newly appointed chief of the veterans administration medical service. Veterans hospitals, he said, should be set up where the best medical care is available, "not out in the sticks, where the aid of physicians in the big city medical centers is lost."

Today's speakers at the doctors' meeting will include Dr. Herbert L. Mantz, of Kansas City; Col. John B. Grow, St. Louis; Dr. Robert J. Crossen, St. Louis; and Dr. Everts A. Graham, both of St. Louis, Mo.

Showdown in Oil Workers Strike Now Thought Imminent

A union official in Washington said the walkout threatened to idle an additional 40,000.

Major stoppages during the last 24 hours kept 13,000 workers away from their jobs at five Frigidaire plants of General Motors Corporation in Dayton, O., while in McCook, Ill., some 7,500 CIO workers at the GM Electro-Motive Diesel division remained away from work in an unexplained stoppage.

The new oil strikes reported yesterday included five in Oklahoma involving 1,385 workers, and in California about 1,100 walked out at each of the Oilium and Wilmington plants. In Pennsylvania, the strike affected 980 workers at the Sinclair refineries at Marcus Hook, near Philadelphia, while between 400 and 500 from the Socony-Vacuum company refinery at Augusta, Kas., joined in the strike similar to action taken at Sinclair refineries in Coffeyville and Kansas City, and the Phillips plant at Kansas City. Workers at two small Detroit plants settled their strike. Other states where the strike is in progress include Texas, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, West Virginia, Massachusetts, Louisiana and New York.

Restore Electric Power

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 2.—(P)—The lower Colorado River Authority announced today it has fully restored electric power to all its central Texas customers except at Lampasas and vicinity.

Thirty hours after striking union workers suddenly walked off the job at its four big hydroelectric plants along the Colorado river, the LCRA had made connections with privately owned utility companies, with the city of Austin's generating plant and had completely put the Austin dam plant back into service.

"The men who walked off are out of their jobs and will not be re-employed," he said.

Session Held by Ministers Ends

LONDON, Oct. 2.—(P)—The council of foreign ministers concluded its sessions tonight.

A terse statement on the three weeks of work, which were punctuated by several heated controversies, said only that the council had decided to "terminate its present session."

A further statement was expected later which might disclose the degree of success of failure of the deliberations of the foreign ministers of the United States, Russia, Great Britain, France and China.

The United States delegation promised a statement within a few hours.

Some diplomats speculated that the foreign ministers had decided to toss the conference problems to the heads of state of the big three governments.

create jobs."

Vinson, in a closed door session with the ways and means group, reportedly criticized the Republican proposal by saying it would put taxes for the largest taxpayers below prewar rates while granting small relief in dollars for low incomes.

Rep. Gregory (D-Ky.) one of the four ways and means Democrats who joined in a coalition with Republicans to shelve the jobless pay bill, told newspapermen:

"I'm for Fred Vinson's tax program. I believe the committee will approve it."

George, the senate's leading tax manager, said in an interview: "Vinson is entirely right in getting rid of the excess profits tax. He is entirely right in setting a definite cutoff date for the high excise rates. There might be some differences about the treatment of reductions for individuals, but his amounts are as high as we can go at this time. I am convinced he has made a very constructive approach."

(In Shanghai, Mayor Chien Tachen said the war loot of Japanese and Germans in Shanghai would be seized by his administration and returned to its owners even though it had been transferred to Swiss and Portuguese. He added at a press conference that the 2,400 Germans in Shanghai would be placed in a restricted area and the pro-Nazis and Japanese collaborators among them screened out and arrested.)

Rousing Meet at Shops For Chest Drive

Wood in closing.

Address By Rev. Fr. Brunswick

Mr. Rose then presented Father A. J. Brunswick who responded with a few remarks relative to his appearance at the shops "when we were still in the throes of conflict and war and we were putting forth our efforts to put an end to war. Our loved ones, brothers, and sisters, sons and daughters were in a mortal danger of life and this created an unified effort to bring the war to a close. The fight is over, but the war is a long way from it," he said.

Father Brunswick, continuing, said, some of you worked eight and nine hour on jobs necessary for the moving of troops and supplies. Throughout the nation his will record of this war of a unity of effort and purpose, from the housewife in the kitchen to the children in the schools, to the working man in the shop and factories to the last single soul that boasted of a drop of earthly patriotic blood in its veins, all worked as a unit, a cog in the great machine of war to make successful this great venture of battle for victory and peace.

We, of Sedalia, have all through the war boasted your work at the shops. You have celebrated during the time a great number of singular accomplishments and we celebrated with you. The glory of those you know, but I which rightfully you should be appraised of some fine compliments you men received but never knew of.

Compliments from the men on the streets, from professional men and business men and women of your city. The mother in the shop, the teacher in the schools.

"It was ever a source of genuine delight for me to hear the reassuring answer from Mr. Kilbury, when I met him to ask: 'How are boys at the shop? They are doing just fine, Mr. Kilbury would reply.'

We take this occasion to venture to express to you men sincere thanks for the fine work you performed so successfully during the past years. We want you to feel that you have not only done credit to yourselves but have given credit on the community. That's my purpose to day. Not that I feel you expect it, but because all of us know that you have it coming. A hearty thank you, boys, from our community. Do not forget that with the power you have together credit for yourself and the community, there goes likewise a definite responsibility to the community. In your consultations and considerations and finally decisions, don't forget that the more nearly you make such in the light of what is best for the community, the greater will be the success of your leadership.

"The war is over, or rather the fight is over, the war is still on. Support your war fund drive, war chest drive, USO, etc., that are essentials if not more so than they were during the war. Give more than you did last year," Mr. Wood said.

C. R. Kilbury Speaks

C. R. Kilbury, superintendent of shops, closed the meeting with a few remarks relative to the work the railroads did during the war. He pointed out that the railroads made a little money during the war but that 85 per cent of every dollar net was given to the government. That left 15 per cent for the railroads. This is surprising to the public but it is the fact. He spoke about the shops back on the eight hour day now, where we started from years ago. Let us keep up the good work we have been doing and help put over the war chest drive.

Vie Over the Size Of Big Melons

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(P)—After Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) displayed in the senate restaurant a 106-pound watermelon he had received from Northern Arkansas, Senator Briggs (D-Mo) suggested in his newspaper, the Macon Chronicle Herald, that probably the seed was planted on the Missouri side and the vine pushed the melon into Arkansas.

Result: H. G. Simpson, former Missouri Highway Commissioner, sent Briggs a larger watermelon. "It so far outclasses the Arkansas watermelon that it is not comparable," Briggs told a reporter.

But he didn't say how much it weighed.

More Trouble for Elliott Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(P)—More trouble for Elliott Roosevelt popped up in congress today.

A 400,000-word record of the investigation into his financial troubles was filed with the house yesterday.

But ways and means committee members, both Republicans and Democrats, told a reporter it left unanswered this question:

"Should Elliott be required to pay income tax on the $196,000 he didn't repay on a $200,000 loan from John A. Hartford?"

The committee said the question should be settled because otherwise the government stands to lose between $35,000 and $40,000."

Frank Gross, the "meter-man," said he had been handling the building and electrical inspector's job along with his work and it was too much. Mayor Wilks suggested appointing Fire Chief John G. Lucke to take over the latter two duties, and the council voted the change.

Lucke also will receive a $25 a month raise in pay along with a $15 increase in gasoline allowance, made possible through a motion of Alderman Middleton and seconded by Alderman Eickhoff.

Alderman Keenan asked the council to consider having the mayor appoint a citizen committee to investigate the salaries of the elective officials as to a possible increase. Keenan sighted the police magistrate's office held by Judge C. W. BEWARE OF PIN-WORMS

Recent medical reports reveal that an amazing number of children and grown-ups may be victims of Pin-Worms—often without suspecting what it is!

Watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms in your child or yourself—especially the tormenting, embarrassing rectal itch. Because now you can and should do something about it. After centuries of distress caused by Pin-Worms, a highly effective way to deal with them has been made possible. It is based on the medically recognized drug called gentian violet.

This special drug is the vital ingredient in P.W., the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son. P.W. tablets are small and easy to take, and are a special way to remove Pin-Worms.

If you suspect this nasty infection, ask your doctor for JAYNE'S P.W. and follow the directions. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money back.

It's easy to remember: P.W. for Pin-Worms!

Borowy vs. Newhouser In Opener

Look for the 1945 Series to be a Record Breaker

By Sid Feder

DETROIT, Oct. 2.—(P)—The Tigers and the Cubs took their one and only pre-series look today at the baseball patch on which they start slugging tomorrow, leaving the rosters by the thousands to finish the hottest 1945 World Series argument — how come all the Detroit optimism over what left hand pitching can do to the Cubs.

The weather man promised to keep the rain faucets, which were running like broken beer taps all day yesterday, shut down today for a lone pre-series workout for the two clubs. He promised, too, to cooperate tomorrow, when the first of three straight 55,000-sell-out crowds cram into Briggs Stadium to see Lefty Hal Newhouser and Hank Borowy start the shooting. However, the forecast is for more rain Friday.

The opening game of the series will start at 12:30 p. m. Central Standard Time.
Incidentally, a win for Hank as a Cub in this one, on top of his 1943 performance as a Yankee in triumphing the Cards, would make the likeable "Big Red" arm the first two-league series winner since old Jack Coombs bowled over the Cubs three times in 1910 and the Giants once in '11, as a member of the Philadelphia Athletics, and belted the Boston Red Sox as a Brooklyn Dodger five years later.

Since both teams have showed up, thereby assuring the folks that the series is on, the rival managers weighed in with their predictions. Of course, they picked their own outfits to win.
Steve O'Neill tabbed the betting-favored Tigers in six games, and Jolly Cholly Grimm went for the Cubs, "but with none of this number of games stuff — we'll just play one game after the other until we're home."

The Tigers took first crack at the diamond today at 11 a. m., followed by the Chicago champions, who got in last night with their new suits.
It wasn't until the series clans started gathering last night and today that enough National leaguers infiltrated to put up a loud enough argument to be heard concerning O'Neill's pleasant thoughts on how his southpaw serving is going to break the Cubs' collective backs.
"Let's get down to numbers,"

Teammates Cheer Tiger Hero

Hank Greenberg, who made a home run with the bases full in an exciting ninth inning finish against the St. Louis Browns to win the American league pennant for the Detroit Tigers, is shown in the Tigers' dressing room with teammates. (Left to right) Benton, pitcher; York, first base; Greenberg, and Newhouser, pitcher. (NEA TELEPHOTO)

Lee Wyckoff Otto Schnabel Meet Tonight

Marshall Estep to Meet Jerry Meeker In the Main Event

one veteran of the senior circuit pointed out. "We'll admit Newhouser's a hot heater. But he's only a 6 to 5 in the betting books to beat the Cubs. Then O'Neill says he's going to come in with Stubby Overmire, and he says it like he's confident about it. He must be kidding."
You had to admit this guy had something, because the records show that the Cubs this season tangled with portside elbowers 40 times and knocked them off in 26 games, against 14 losses. Of course, a flinger like Harry Brecheen of the Cards found out they were his cousins, but they whipped him in the big one that counted — the first game of last week's series with St. Louis in Chicago. And even a Detroit fan will admit Overmire's no Brecheen.

It is pointed out, too, that while O'Neill is making speeches about how his lefties will find big holes in the bats of such left handed hitters as Phil Cavaretta, Stan Hack and Bill Nicholson, the Cub lineup also sports a few pretty fair country ball-belters who hit from the knife side of the plate. Andy Parko, for instance, has clouted a dozen homers and knocked in 111 runs; Peanuts Lowrey has sent 87 tallies home this year and Don Johnson wound up with a .302 mark.

Detroit simmered down from its original city-wide delirium to a simple insanity as it waited today, while the thousands pouring in, hour by hour still spent their time looking for a place to hang their hats the next few nights.

Some half dozen of the baseball writers, whose reservations were made at one hotel three weeks ago, found themselves suddenly and summarily transferred to the two lake steamers tied up along the waterfront handling the overflow. One writer made the round trip trek late in the day, was asked how it was, and replied:
"I don't know; my room hasn't docked yet."

Meantime, the finger filberts broke out their special adding pencils and came up with the interesting possibility that this set may produce the biggest players' share of all series history for the winners. It was noted that the all-time top winner's paycheck came right out of the last series between these same two outfits — back in 1935, when the Tigers took down the neat, if not gaudy, chunk of $6,544.76 per Tiger, which is half, even to the off-season farmers on these clubs.

With sell-out crowds assured for the first three games in Mr. Briggs' ballyard tomorrow, Thursday and Friday, plus the ample accommodations in Wrigley field for the fourth fust Saturday — the last one the players cut — a new ceiling might very well be hit. Since it's still several more months to income tax time, the players today unanimously admitted they don't feel a bit hurt about it.

Tonight the weekly Pettis Co. Post No. 16, American Legion, wrestling show will be held at the State Guard Armory, Ninth street and Ohio avenue, bringing together six wrestlers in three matches. The first match will start promptly at 8:30 o'clock.
Opening the show tonight will be Lee Wyckoff, Nevada, Mo., former heavyweight champion who meets Otto Schnabel of Los Angeles and Detroit. They will wrestle for the best fall with a 30-minute time limit. Both men are known to local fans and probably are the two most evenly matched wrestlers in weight to meet in the local ring.

Ken Fenelon, Dubuque, Ia., also a matman who has appeared before Sedalia crowds from time to time, is meeting Roy Gardner of Dallas, Texas, a newcomer to the ring in central Missouri. Little information was passed on about Gardner, other than he is a rough and tumble grappler.

The match, the semi-windup, will be the best two falls out of three with a 45-minute limit.
The main event brings together Marshall Estep, Sturgeon, Mo., and Jerry Meeker of Columbus, O., in what they have termed a "grudge meeting." Estep has been defeated by Meeker in the local ring and also lost to him in a team match, for which Estep now seeks revenge. This match will be for the best two falls out of three with a 90-minute time limit.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Ralph Ventresco, the only pre-war player on the Penn State football squad, was declared ineligible the day before the opening game against Muhlenberg. The reason was that he had flunked too many courses in his last semester in college — in 1941. . . . In the interim he collected five battle stars fighting in Europe and once spent 115 days in a foxhole, but that won't get him back to the varsity before Nov. 1. . . . During the recent game between California Tech (Pasadena) and California Poly (San Luis Obispo) Jerry Wozniak's try for what would have been the tying point was blocked. Wozniak ran the ball over, but the referee ruled it a dead ball. . . . Coach Pete Brown

Two Stolen Cars Are Recovered

The 1941 Chevrolet coach of Eugene Hayes, 2037 East Seventh street, which was stolen from near Broadway and Ohio avenue, about 9:50 o'clock Monday night, was recovered at Knob Noster.
A Ford coupe, reported stolen in Kansas City, Kansas, was recovered in Sedalia by the police. The car was found parked near the Brown filling station on North Missouri avenue.
It belonged to Frank C. McKee, who notified local officers he was coming for the car.

That probably explains how he got through a couple of wartime seasons without being visibly disturbed by left-handed thinking. . . .

New Kaiser-Frazer Automobiles Likely to Resemble the Other 1946 Models

First of the new automobiles produced by Henry Kaiser, left and Joseph W. Frazer are expected to be conventional in appearance as measured by next year's stylings.

BY S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent

DETROIT—When it was learned that Henry Kaiser was going into the automobile business there arose a quite general assumption that the ship-building wizard had some sort of rabbit in his hat. Either he would produce an appealing midsize car big enough to compete with Ford-Chevrolet-Plymouth, but much underpriced, or he planned some 21st century innovation right out of the Sunday supplements.

Crazy About Details
There's nothing to it, I can't tell you in detail the body lines and specifications of the new Frazer, which the Kaiser-Frazer Co. hopes to begin producing about February in the 1,500 class, or the new Kaiser which they are trying to get into showrooms about May to compete with Chevrolet-Ford-Plymouth. But I can assure you that

German Scientists To Do Research

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(P)—A group of outstanding German scientists and technicians is being brought to the United States on a voluntary basis and under army supervision to aid in military research.

The war department, announcing this today, did not disclose the identity of the scientists.

The department said the group was being brought here "to insure that we take full advantage of those significant developments which are deemed vital to our national security."

Interrogation and study of documents, equipment and facilities, the department said, "are but one means of exploiting German progress in science and technology. In order that this country may benefit fully from this resource a number of carefully selected scientists and technologists are being brought to the United States on a voluntary basis."

Power on the Policies Over Schools Intact

That of State Legislature Given Senate Approval

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 2.—(P)—The Missouri senate voted Monday to leave the legislature's power over public school policies intact in the new department of education to be set up under the 1945 constitution.

It approved by a voice vote an amendment by Sen. Edgar J. Keating (D) of Kansas City, to strip the proposed new lay board of education of policy making authority, leaving the board subject to legislative action.

Keating said he was a little alarmed at the bill. He termed it part of a studied movement to "destroy our basic system of government by practically abolishing the legislative branch." Apparently, he said, it was an attempt by schoolmen to "arrogate to themselves complete power over public schools."

Sen. H. R. Williams of Cassville, Republican floor leader, joined in attacking the bill's broad powers.

"We don't want to create another situation like we have over at the university," he said, "where the board of curators said they didn't care what the legislature did."

He said school policies should be "kept in the hands of the legislature instead of the hands of the supreme-outfit not responsible to anyone."

"When they teach that the story of the Garden of Eden is only a myth and start setting up a class in communism, it's time someone ought to take a hand," Williams declared.

Sen. W. W. Sunderwirth (R) of El Dorado Springs, chairman of the education committee sponsoring the measure, and Sen. Arnold Leonard (R) of Joplin, raised the only voices in opposition to Keating's amendment.

Sharp Rap for An Ex-Outlaw

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2.—(P)—Ex-Outlaw Al Jennings, who went a-lavin' for $100,000 damages because of a radio program about his career, got a verbal rap yesterday from the court.

"So far," observed Superior Judge Robert H. Scott after both sides had rested, "crime is the only profitable enterprise Mr. Jennings has engaged in in his 82 years."

"He admits he made more than $100,000 on his train robbery, and more than $100,000 on books and motion picture rights to his life. Not only that, he murdered a man."

The reformed badman is suing a broadcasting company, alleging that a "Lone Ranger" program falsely depicted him as inducing a youth to join his gang.

Jennings, who in later years became a prosecuting attorney and candidate for governor in Oklahoma, gave the jury of 11 women an one man the low-down on his train robbing technique in the roaring '90s.

"We never robbed a train unless we had a tip on a consignment of money," he testified. "There wasn't much in robbing the passengers, ou can't watch them all at once. They hide their valuables — and watches and jewelry are too easy to identify."

"At first we didn't get enough to feed the horses. Then I thought of an old friend — a field deputy marshal. I told him we would split with him for a tip-off. He said, 'Do you mean to insult my integrity?' And I said, 'You never had any.'"

Jennings said the first tipoff netted him and his men $60,000, of which they gave the tipster $10,000.
